THE OLD SETTLERS.

Meeting of the Old Settlers on the Fair Ground-A Large Attendance and a Good Time-A Consti-tution Adopted and Officers Chosen-Judge Loutzenheiser President of the Association - Short Speeches Made and Old Times Revived.

Everybody present at the meeting yesterday was agreeably surprised at the large concourse of cople assembled at the Fair Grounds, in view of the short notice given. The bald heads and gray beards were there from every township in the county, and the manner in which they seemed to enjoy themselves was truly refreshing. Parties who had not met each other for twenty, thirty and even forty years came together, renewed old acquaintances and talked over old times. It was estimated that there were over a thousand persons on the grounds, and of that number very few under fo years of age. Among the notable persons present were Mrs. Joseph Doll, of Osna burg, daughter of Jacob Kitt, norn October, 1806 the first white child born in the county. Elizabeth Slusser, born December, 1898,—the oldest born in Canton township now living. Daniel Dewalt aged 84, and Michael Kroft, aged 85, all who are left of those who served in the war of '12-Groups of persons were observed in different portions of the grounds, rehearsing their early trials and adventures. We heard George Hoss ler, of Plain, tell of killing four bears at one time from the same tree, the largest of which weighed 275 pounds. Peter Pautius gave a graphic description of their early style of living -how they managed to get along without furniture, except such as they could make themselves after several years they found themselves able to buy three chairs of George Dunbar, Sr. These were kept for the use of strangers, while the family were accustomed to sit on stools and benches. The incidents related would fill a vol-

Abraham Gaskill. Mr. David Yant, of Bethlehem township, being called upon referred to the labor and hardships of the settlers, and the schools of the early days with the scarcity of books, giving high praise to the old English Beader and the Bible, which was then read in school. He referred to the improvements since then, and said the red man who roamed this region for long years did not improve. He related how that after Perry's victory the boys in their boats on Tuscarawas river would have naval sham engagements, one boat being the American and the other the British boat. The worst disaster that would befall any one would be a ducking or be taken prisoner. E. Landon, Esq., of Nimishillen, spoke of the wonderful change in the 59 years since he came to the county, and referred to the destruction of God's forests. Mr. Thomas Deweese, of Osnaburg township, said he was born in Paris township in 1818. He referred to the amount of crime prevailing in these days, saying deviltry was traveling by rail. THE APTERNOON'S PROCEEDINGS. At this time dinner was announced, and the nine tables were soon filled, accommodating about two hundred. Hot coffee was served by the good ladies of Canton, and the well-filled hile, a Sabbath School paper, a Testament, a cat- baskets brought abundance of good food. Four About 2 p. m. Judge Loutzenheiser called to or der, when Dr. Slusser announced: A. McGregor, who referred to his experience in the backwoods, though not in Stark county. He referred to the wonderful improvements as to comotion within his recollection, and the great and continual immigration to this country. He referred to the causes that drove men to leave home and friends to seek a distant land to find equal citizenship and opportunity to become an idependent land owner. He referred to the class oppression that kept down the masses of the people in other lands and drove them away by thousands. Esquire A. Pontius, of Plain township, wa called on and spoke of circumstances and early occurrences he got by hearsay. He spoke of the high and improved character of the farming in Stark county and the great attention given to clentific farming.

Dr. Slusser spoke a few minutes on the importance of cultivating sociability and hence the value of this Association. He referred to the mixed condition of our population, thinking it was working well. In speaking of New England he thought it was a good region to move from. He spoke of the large number of old people in the county, said in Tuscarawas township the ages extended to all. Those coming on the train will of 13 persons aggregated 1.118 years, an average of 86 years. We have present the first white child born in Stark county, Mrs. Doll, of Osnaburg, born in October, 1806, daughter of Jacob Kitt, now living in Indiana at the age of 102 years. We have also present the first white child born in Canton township. In 1805 the first settlement was made near where we are now, by four men, one of whom died of whisky and was buried on what is known as the Reed farm. Henry Bachtel had been over fifty years in Jackson township; told of farmer hauling a load of flour to Cleveland, selling it for $2.50 a barrel, and hauling back five barrels of salt at $5. He said every farm in Jackson township had changed hands since 1824, except that of Solomon Lichtenwalter.

Laz Baghiel was born in Pike township in 1825, and his home was still there. He referred to going to school to A. McGregor and teaching each winter until lately. He saw many familiar faces here, referred to gay churches with high steepless fast horses and stylish buggles, etc., contrasting these with the spinning wheel of fifty years ago, economy and hard work and good common sense and homespun.

Judge Underhill followed in some remarks of the good order and system in farming in Stark county. Honest industry commands success The same art and skill that make a bank bill can make a counterfeit. of boots, he said he was 25. Mr. Yant suggested next meeting be held a week or two later, to suit farmers; also that articles of interest be exhibited. He had a stool made by his grandfather over a hundred years ago. A cabinet of curiosities would be interesting. He lived in sight of the spot where Fredererick Post built his house in 1761 and where was Richard Carter the Quakers' trading house.

Mr. Yost proposed singing the Doxology and adjourn, which was done, all being pleased with this the first Old Settlers' Meeting.

ORPHAN CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

On to morrow, Friday, evening, at the Baptist church in our city, will be given a concert by a party of orphan children from the Home for friendless children at Mt. Vernon, Obio. These children are from four to eight years old and are said to be very interesting and entertaining. The concert consists of music and recitations and will be a rich attraction. Let our citizens patronize the little ones.

The institution at Mt. Vernon is not a county nor State institution, but receives orphans from any pert of the State. Admission to the cencert 25 cents; children under 12 years, presenting the card of Superintendent McWherter, 10 cents.

RAILWAY TICKETS STOLEN,-It seems that on the 13th just., Mr. Thompson, ticket agent at the Fort Wayne depot discovered that several packages of tickets had been tampered with and a number stolen out of the center of the packs. He immediately sent word to the head effice and went himself to Pittsburg. The matter was at once investigated. Mr. Fletcher, the day operstor, was summoned to Pittsburg and cross questioned. On his return he received notice of discharge. From what we learn it may be on account of carelessness rather than complicity. The value of tickets stolen may amount to ten thousand dollars if available, but as they are "bulletined," they are worthless. It is well Agent Thompson discovered the theft in time.

The clock in the Court-house tower is again illuminated with its old time radiance. It will be remembered that the court-house is making its own gas down in the basement, and owing to insufficient pipes the clock was not properly illuminated at night. in place of the one-quarter inch pipe formerly used a three-quarter inch pipe has been substituted with the gratifying result of giving a bright light each evening. This improvement is greatly appreciated, and why not take another step and have said light burn all night. The cost is trifling, and the accommadation would be great.

AKRON.-Thomas Whalen, about 60 years of age, of new Portage, met with a peculiar death Friday evening in the store of John McNamara. He tried to provoke a quarrel with Jacob Snyder, who caught hold of him in a playful manner and threw him to the floor. Then Snyder caught hold of his feet and turned him suddenly around, Whalen turning half a somersault. He expired in half an hour. A post mortem examination revealed that he came to his death by dislocation of the cervical vertebre. He leaves a family. No blame is attached to Snyder.

A new boller recently put in the DEMOCRAT office is of a new pattern and was made by Mrs Sam Davis, of this city. The work on the boiler is first-class. The boiler is arranged with a sheet fron jacket so that the smoke after lekving the flues passes entirely around the outside of the boiler and then into the smoke stack, thus getting the benefit of the heat of the smoke and facilitating the getting up of steam, it requiring but fifteen minutes to get up 25 pounds of steam in the boller from cold water.
